AT SEQUOIA HIGH SCHOOL

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

Last Saturday night the Juniors were hosts to the Seniors at the annual "Senior Feed". The tables were set for nearly sixty people in a very unique and tasteful manner. The Heliogabolis was the chief feature of the decorating scheme, as all the place cards were made to represent that symbol of wisdom which was captured by the Juniors from the Class of '15, and which was exposed to the jealous view of the Class of '15 during the dinner.

The Juniors had provided a splendid meal, and all went well with quips and jokes to aid the digestion until all the chicken pie and its embellishments had given place to the ice cream dessert. Then the fun reigned supreme. The Faculty supplied it. Nearly every member of our Faculty was called upon by the toastmaster for a few remarks, and all responded with a few moments of real wit and good wishes. Intermingled with those of the Faculty were toasts of the Juniors and Seniors whose aim it was to make their teachers forget their doleful occupation.

Comte O'Connell in behalf of the Junior class tendered back the Heliogabolis to the Seniors on condition that it be returned as usual on Commencement Night. But the Seniors declined to accept and Locker in a clever speech welcomed back to its Junior fold that ancient symbol of wisdom.

An interesting feature of this banquet was the fact that the presidents each of the lower classes were invited to attend much to their own pleasure and that of every one else. The evening of fun ended with dancing and the Seniors went home with a real happy memory for their "School Day Books."

BACCALAUREATE SERMON

Rev. J. U. Simmons, pastor of the Methodist Church of Palo Alto gave the baccalaureate address Sunday afternoon in the Assembly Room. Rev. Stevens offered the opening prayer. Rev. Parker read the lesson from The Proverbs. The double male quartet sang "Crossing the Bar" and "Praise Ye the Father." Mr. Carrington's singing of "My Days Are In His Hands" was especially good.

"By little and little I will drive them out from before thee until thou be increast and inherit the land—and thou shalt drive them out." "Each of us has a divine inheritance, yet we must conquer, it is ours by conquest, and that conquest is realized gradually, little by little. In these strenuous days, we have no time to rest, we are not content to take a slow course to arrive at a given end, we are too impatient to bide our time—we must jump the intervening space, we yearn to leap over years of gradual attainment. I was sixteen before I rode in a buggy, but a young man in this age is considered slow if he doesn't drive his own car, or, at best, that of his father. The horse is being relegated altogether. He must choose between the church and the cemetery—he cannot be at both places. One must almost have a motorcycle to keep up with a funeral. The thing to be desired is a constant, gradual progress, the knowledge that one is each day attaining, that each day means some little achievement, a forward, an upward growth. And the biggest thing is a proper adjustment to God, a continuing faith in God and the ultimate triumph of the good. Learn to conquer self, even little by little."

YOUR BEST ALL THE TIME

"Whatever is worth doing at all, is worth doing well." This is an old saying but have you ever stopped to think what the words mean? Have you ever realized that they could be applied to your every day life and to every single thing that you do? It does not mean that you should study your lessons just enough so that you can get a passing mark. It does not mean that you should spend the very least time possible on your composition just so long as you can say you did it. This does you no good. If your lessons are worth studying at all they are worth studying well. If it is worth your time to write a composition, it is worth putting your very best effort on it. A good mark on your report will not help you when you are out of school. What will your employer care for it? What he will want will be results and what you will need of school. What will your employer care for it? What he will want will be the results and what you will need will be the results. Remember, if it is worth while to go to school at all, it is worth while to do your best. It is worth your best effort. The opportunities of school life, once past, never return; so make the best of them now.—Dorothy Bresse.

Valedictory ..... Thelma Knox
Address ..... Roy W. Cloud
Remarks ..... S. P. McCrea
Presentation of Diplomas ..... L. P. Behrens

Those who are to graduate are:

FOR NEXT YEAR'S FRESHMEN

With the close of this school year many boys and girls must decide whether or not they will come to High School. Some think that they can't afford it and will go to work. Often these are the ones who would get the most out of high school.

It won't pay to come unless you mean business. To pay for food, clothes and books for four years takes a snug sum of money. No boy or girl should ask parents to assume so large an expense unless they mean to make it pay. In most high schools more boys and girls get tired and quit than ever complete any course; and yet those who complete the courses make it worth while. It is doubtful whether Sequoia has a graduate who has failed to make his education of real use to himself or others.

Much of your success depends on a careful choice of your course. For years our girls preparing for Normal have chosen the Literary course. That course no longer meets with Normal requirements tho it is the best for most girls who mean to attend a university. Our scientific course is planned especially for boys and girls preparinb for University. It puts the emphasis on Science and Mathematics and furnishes a good all-round training for many occupations.

The Commercial course is a training for business. It prepares the student to begin his mercantile experience with an intelligent foundation. The bookkeeping work does not make first-class accountants, but enables the student to adapt himself to any system and be able to do the work. Stenography is a stepping stone to something much better. For a boy who intends to go into business, both bookkeeping and stenography are almost indispensable.

The Industrial course is for those girls who wish to make sewing, cooking, millinery and drawing their main studies. It is meant to prepare girls to be "home makers." Unless the standard is raised, the rank of women teachers will soon be greatly crowded in California. And all girls are not fitted by nature to be teachers. It is a very exacting occupation. Each year more girls will enter the course.

The Industrial course is also for those boys who expect to learn a trade. It now includes carpentry and furniture-making and freehand and mechanical drawing and such mathematics and science as the boy has the ability and willingness to learn—the more the better. With the new shop we expect to give forge and machine shop instruction and to make a careful study of automobiles and their care and repair. A course will also be given in Shop Arithmetic. Many boys who do not mean to go to a university take this course. It will pay well to spend your vacation planning your course of study. Try it.

S. P. McCrea.

A YEAR WORTH WHILE

Another year has come to an end in Sequoia, and it has been a profitable year, don't you think? But the next one will be better. We are going to take more interest in our school. Perhaps the incoming Freshmen will bring a good supply of school spirit. The Forum came near dying out this last semester and that would have been a loss to Sequoia. Next fall let us stand by our president and make a worth-while club that will help train debaters to uphold our school. And the Music Club! That must continued, too. Its revival this year made possible several pleasing programs which were enjoyed by the pupils. Then comes the Boosters Club. Sequoia cannot get along without it. This year it did some fine work, notably the "Jitney Bazaar", altho at some meetings the members did not live up to their name. And last but not least comes "The Booster." Not a club to be sure but it was started to boost and it accomplished its purpose.

MARIE GETS MEDAL

(B. E. M.)

Last night our Treble Clef Club closed the year's work with twenty minutes of music, as during the school year. The selection was based upon percentages, but as these percentages came out so nearly even and there being but a fraction of a point between Comte's record and Marie's, it was decided to determine the winner by having another debate. For various reasons, Marie declined to debate. Comte, in a magnanimous spirit, in the following letter, withdrew all claims he might have to the medal, allowing it to go to Marie.

Redwood Highlands, June 17th, 1916 (6:30).

In view of the fact that Marie McAuliffe is about to leave Sequoia for good; and

In view of the fact that Marie McAuliffe has not time to devote to a debate with me before the close of school, on account of her Senior work;

I relinquish all claim to the Ross Debating Medal of 1915-16, for which we have both striven.

COMTE E. O'CONNELL

The members of The Forum are to present a cup to Thelma Knox in appreciation of the work she has done this year to keep our debating up to its normal standard. The following officers were elected to serve next year. President, Comte O'Connell; Vice President, Camilla Stafford; Secretary, Jessie Duggan; Treasurer, James Bridgewater; and Sergeant-at-Arms, Charles Faso.

TRACK MEET

In the Interclass tract meet Wednesday all the classes were represented. The Juniors were the victors with 59 points, the Freshmen as runners-up with 23 points; third place was taken by the Sophomores, 20 points being their total; the Seniors' eleven points brought them fourth place. Seely took 16¼ points and Rice came second with 11 points. The meet was a success from start to finish and at the close it was decided to make it a semi-annual affair.

But to get the most good from such meets, the school should have a regular athletic field. Athletics are not for the fastest runner or the best jumper or hurdler. Athletics should not be encouraged to determine supremacy in any event. Athletics to be truly beneficial and justify their existence should strengthen and develop the body. Running on hard asphalt is not doing the athlete any good; in fact, it is doing him injury. The surface for running should not be hard, but rather soft and springy to some extent. So let us hope that by next fall the School will have a field where a game of ball can be played with the idea of running races on it in the spring.

Shotput—Wood, 39 ft. 2 inches; Locker, N. McKee.

Pole Vault—Locker, 8 ft. 10 inches Stevens, Seely.

Hi Jump—Seely, 4 ft. 10 inches, McAuliffe and McKee tied for second.

Standing Broad Jump—Boudreaux, 9 ft. 1 inch, Rice, Seely.

Running Broad Jump—Boudreaux, 16 ft. 3 inches, Seely, Locker.

Fifty Yard Dash—Cross, Rice, N. McKee.

One Hundred Yard Dash—Rice, Watson, McKee.

Three-Leg Race—Stevens-Faso; Murray-Heydenfeldt; Hexner-Watson.

Two-twenty Yard Dash—Watson, Hexner, Carnduff.

Four-forty Yard Dash—Carnduff, Faso, L. O'Connell.

Two-Mile Bicycle Race—Lawler, Wood, R. Murray.

One-Twenty Yard Hurdle—Seely, Carnduff, Stevens.

Relay Race was won by the Juniors Locker, Faso, Seely and Stevens running.

HOPE

Hope is the bit of courage
That comforts us in our need;
That makes us want to go forward
Out of the mire and weed.

It's like water to thirsty wanderers
Who stumble on hot scorcht sands;
As food to the starving beggars
Who hunger along Life's strands.
Hope is the child's desire,

The longing for something great;
It's the hand that makes burdens lighter,
When we are sinking under their weight.

Hope is the mother's yearning,
While she waits for her boy's success;
It's the prayer of our Creator,
As He raiseth His hand to bless.

NEW MEMBERS OF TREBLE CLEF

Next Friday night, our Treble Clef Club will close the year's work with twenty minutes of music, as a part of the commencement program. The Club has done much good work during the past year, and all are looking forward to twenty-minutes of sheer delight, and well they may for never before has our school possest a finer group of singers

This year the girls will lose five of their best members, who will graduate with the class of '16. Membership in the Treble Clef Club, which consists of the best girl singers in Sequoia, is limited, and therefore a great deal of interest is being taken by the "Eligibles" as to who will fill two of the vacancies when Hazel Lamb, Marie McAuliffe, Lorraine Dickey, Lou Etta Millard and Lillie Gould graduate. Three of these vacancies have been filled already by the election of Camilla Stafford, Adeline Weeden and Dorothy Breese. Altho it is a rule with the girls of this Club never to elect a Freshman as a member, they have chosen Dorothy Bresse, who has been their accompanist for the past year, to fill the position of regular accompanist. Those who are to fill the other two vacancies will be chosen from the Senior, Junior and Sophomore girls on the prospective list.

SEQUOIA TENNIS CHAMPIONS

Last Wednesday the Mountain View tennis team came to Redwood and were defeated by Sequoia in all matches played. The boys' singles and one boys' doubles were staged. The matches resulted in the following score:

J. McKee (S) defeated Truelson (Mt. V.) 6-1, 6-4.

Gordon Seely (S) won from Garliepp (Mt. V.) 6-0, 3-6, 9-7.

George and Gordon Seely (S) defeated Garliepp and Truelson (Mt. V.) 3-6, 6-1, 6-3.

The matches were all lively and interesting, and we certainly hope for more in the future.

Another event of the week was a faculty tennis match with Mr. Olson and Mr. Carrington on one side and Mr. Myers and Mr. Adams on the other. After a close contest Mr. Myers and Mr. Adams won by a score of 4-6, 6-3, 6-0.

The doubles tournament has not been progressing very rapidly owing to the inability of some of the fellows to come out, but in all probability it will be finished this afternoon. The scores: Heydenfeldt and Brown won from C. and L. O'Connell 6-1, 10-8. George and Gordon Seely won from Pitcher and Rice by default.

A very interesting match was run off Saturday afternoon. Gordon and George Seely played Roy Curran and Frank Griffin and won from them in the doubles 1-6, 6-1, 7-5; Gordon won from Griffin 6-2, 1-6, 6-1; but Curran defeated George 6-2, 6-1.

SOPHS WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

In a closely contested game, the Sophomores defeated the Freshmen last Tuesday by a score of four to two. This game gave the Sophs the right to play the Juniors for the school championship. When the Juniors and Sophomores fought it out Thursday, Eikerenkotter for the Sophomores did some fine pitching. During the course of the six innings played of the nineteen men who faced him, eight of them were fanned, two were allowed to walk, two hit easy flies and six were put out on the infield. Olson suffered from the hitting of the Sophs but did good work in the box. The errors of his team mates however lost the game. The score was Sophomores 7, Juniors 0.

SENIORS WIN CUP

In the final debate of the interclass series for the Faculty Cup, held in the Assembly Hall on June 9th, the Senior Class succeeded in defeating the Freshman class in a close debate, on the question of the desirability of a Federal Inheritance Tax. The Freshmen, represented by Jessie Duggan and Blanche Ross upheld the negative side of the question, while Thelma Knox and Marie McAuliffe upheld the affirmative. The teams were well matched, but after a close struggle the Seniors came off with the large end of a 50 1-3 to 49 2-3 score.

The names of the winners of this debate, Marie McAuliffe and Thelma Knox, will be engraved on the Faculty Cup.

OLSON IS TESTED

Oscar Olson, our happy Annapolis candidate, took his examinations June 6-9 in San Francisco. He spent four days taking tests in Algebra, Plane Geometry, Geography, English Composition, Language Work, American History and Medieval History. The records will be returned from Annapolis in about four weeks. You have our best wishes, Ole!

SWEENEY RANCH POSSIBLE SITE FOR AERO SCHOOL

Government School at San Diego May Be Moved Here

It was presistently rumored yesterday that the United States government was negotiating for the purchase of the Sweeney ranch near town. It was also rumored that the big sum of $500,000 was to be paid for the property. The rumors could not be confirmed at a late hour last evening. However, there are two incidents that lend some semblance of truth to the report. First, the owner of the property, Mrs. R. A. S. Pescia, who spent the winter and spring months at Washington, is Speeding westward and is expected here tomorrow or Monday, and secondly, the government representative, Lieutenant Harry Gantz of San Diego, is on the ground having come up from the government training school for aviators to purchase a new site for the proposed school.

Gantz, who was here yesterday, said he prefered Redwood City to any other place in the state and would recommend to the government that Redwood City be chosen for this school. Under these circumstances it may be taken for granted that the government will locate here. Owing to the Mexican unpleasantness it is likely that the government will establish a school at once and will not dicker for a site. Aeroplanes will have to be used in Mexico at once and Uncle Sam keep a fleet of airships there to do scout duty.

Because John D. Spreckels of San Diego wants too much for North Island at San Diego, where the government training school for aviators is established, Uncle Sam is looking around for a new site for his school.

"Uncle Sam wants to own the property on which the school is built," said Gantz, "and the Spreckels family are asking what we consider a prohibitive price."

LOCAL SALOONS WELL REGULATED

All the Local Dealers of the City are Given Permits for Another Year

Redwood City has a well regulated saloon business. The determined effort of the public morals committee of the board of town trustees in seeing that the ordinances governing their business are obeyed was reflected at the board's meeting Monday evening when the saloon men's applications for licenses for another year came up. The matter of granting the licenses passed in the regular order of business, without discussion or a single objection. Following are the proprietors to whom were granted Class A licenses: Flynn & Larricou, Lee Clark, John C. Barg, Victor Bernasque, Mike Di Vita, Jose Rosa, Redwood City Hotel Company, Wm. F. Fick, G. C. Plump, Bertolucci & Pierrini, Alex. Nelson, Patrick J. Foley, Frank R. Maloney, Larrouy Bros., I. Allegrini, Charles Luscher, F. A. Hackett, Genochio Bros., Angelo Scilini and Stafford Bros. Wm. Warren was granted a Class D license Restaurant liquor licenses were granted to the Paris Cafe, Eureka Restaurant and Hotel Sequoia Cafe.

City Engineer Finlay will prepare detailed plans and specifications in triplicate for the new flood gates at the Bradford street draw bridge to be sent to the engineering division of the War department at Washington for their approval. It is not probable that they will interpose any objections and as soon as their approval to the plans is received the board will take further action to make this unsightly slough a place of beauty and pleasure in the heart of town. The plans will cost $51.75.

Since the fill in Center street has closed the natural drainage of one of the lesser arms of the creek it will be necessary to build a culvert from the depression near Pennsylvania avenue across to the creek at the Center street bridge. City Engineer Finlay's estimate cost of the culvert was $1,011.20 for a wooden construction and $1,510.80 for a concrete tube. The small difference in cost and the longer life of the concrete make the more permanent construction desirable. No action will be taken until the necessary right-of-way over the old school property is secured from the school trustees. permit to conduct a creamery at 309 Main street near the Jamieson building.

Town Clerk Price requested that the block books for assessment purposes be brought up to date. The matter was refered to Trustee McNulty, chairman of the finance committee with power to act.

A new street light was ordered installed on Maple street near the railroad crossing.

The Pacific Gas and Electric Company were granted permission to replace a number of city poles with their own on condition that they grant the city perpetual right to all necessary free contacts to poles erected in places where city poles now stand.

Superintendent of Streets Dickey was instructed to replank the lift bridge on Bradford street.

In the plans and specifications for the improvement of Winslow street the curb on the East side will be replaced by a new curb following the true line.

Superintendent of Streets Dickey was instructed to purchase 420 feet of 4-inch cast iron water pipe to be installed on El Camino Real between Redwood and Oak avenues near Five Points before the new pavement is put down. This will greatly relieve the lack of fire protection in that section.

The board adjourned. All the members except Trusteee Merrill who is on his vacation were present.

C. M. Doxsee has just closed a deal for Stewart Edward White, the noted author who maintains a palatial home at Santa Barbara, whereby he secures two acres of land at Hillsborough, a portion of the old Bowie estate, on which he will erect an attractive home. White is one of the best known writers of the country. He is the author of "The Blazed Trail" and other noted works. Hillsborough is very much worked up over his coming and is going to give him a royal reception. His place is to be the shrine of all literary people who will make pilgrimages there.

WOODSIDE NOTES

The Bear Gulch Water Company is to begin at once the laying of a seven inch main to take the place of the two inch now in existance at Woodside beginning at Williams' merchandise store along the high way down to the extreme end of the road. This improvement of the water system will be glad news to the people of Woodside. The company has been contemplating this move for some time.

It is reported the Mayor James Rolph of San Francisco is adding more broad acres to his vast domain in the Alpine nad Woodside districts. Rumor has it that he is negotiating for the purchase of the Dornberger and Meyer ranches near his property. The farms comprise many hundred acres of hill land, well sheltered and watered.

The people of Woodside are opposed to anhexation. They do not want to become the kite on the tail of San Francisco. Should the question be submitted to a vote of the people, Woodside would cast its vote unanimously against the proposition.

Mrs. Frederick Tillman is in Woodside visited her son-in-law and daughter, Baron and Baroness Jan Carel van Eck, for a few days. Baroness van Eck gave a small luncheon today, entertaining several girls from town.

John Kelly, a resident of Woodside since boyhood, with his family has gone to Watsonville to permanently reside. Mr. Kelly is to engage in raising sugar beets for the market. Mr. Kelly and family carry with them the best wishes of the people of Woodside.

Mrs. N. A. Andreen gave a pink tea last Thursday in honor of several out of town guests. The function was also atended by a number of local residents. It was an enjoyable occasion and one that will be long remembered.

MacKENZIE FOR THE JOB

The supervisors on Monday received a written application from Donald MacKenzie for the position of superintendent of the construction of the new jail. Mr. MacKenzie had charge of the construction work on the court house building and by compelling the various contractors to adhere strictly to the terms of their respective agreements saved the county many thousands of dollars besides giving the people and tax payers a building that they may be proud of.

Mr. MacKenzie is a first class mechanic, is thoroughly honest, fearless and not afraid to compel contractors to live up to their agreements. The board is fully aware of Mr. MacKenzie's abilities and will no doubt appoint him to the position. Every one will concur in the appointment.

A rude coffin was made and the body placed into it and buried in the back yard with due ceremony by the little ones who shed bitter tears on leaving the newly made mound.

In putting out poison for rats, ect., people should exercise care in placing it where dogs cannot get it.

Academic Dress.

Academic dress is a sort of scholar's badge consisting of gowns, hoods and caps, copied or adapted from styles long prevalent in England, the combination of articles being so arranged as to indicate the degree or academic status of the wearer. The code was formulated by an intercollegiate college commission chartered by the University of New York and has been adopted in many American colleges. There are three distinct types of gowns and hoops—the bachelor's, the master's and the doctor's. The bachelor's gown is most commonly worn and has long pointed sleeves; the master's gown has long closed sleeves with a slit through which the forearm protrudes; the doctor's gown has velvet bars on round open sleeves and velvet facings down the front. Caps worn with such gowns are the regulation mortar boards with black silk tassels.—Philadelphia Press.

Chinese Architecture.

The monuments of China are among the most conspicuous in the world. Interpreted broadly they range from a coin or an oracle bone to the Great wall. China has more than 2,000 important specimens of the pagoda, an original form of tower architecture unsurpassed for beauty by any similar kind of structure. The Porcelain tower at Nanking deserved to be ranged with the wonders of the world, and for reasons which made it the superior of the so called seven wonders. Chinese sculpture has never been surpassed, and there is no evidence in mundane art to show that it ever will be. There is a single fragment in the Metropolitan museum in New York—a stone head of the Tang period—whose grandeur of plastic mastery since its appearance has conferred distinction upon the sculpture of the world.—Journal of the American Asiatic Association.

His College Handicap.

"I remember when it was really a disadvantage to have had a technical mining education," said John Hays Hammond. "I remember going to one of the large mining magnates of the day in California, who had got his information and experience by hard knocks, and asking for a job. He said: 'There is one serious objection to you. You have been at Freiburg, and you know you have to unlearn a good deal when you get into active practice.' I am sorry to say there is a great deal of truth in that too. 'Well,' I said, 'I will tell you in confidence, but do not repeat this to my poor father, who has made every sacrifice to send me abroad for a mining education—I did not learn a confounded thing at Freiburg.' Then he said, 'I will take you.' And that was the first job I ever got."

The Inns of Chancery.

Most of the old inns of chancery are no more. Clement's inn, where Falstaff and Shallow "heard the chimes at midnight;" New inn, of which Sir Thomas More was a member; Lyon's inn, where Cobe once taught the students; Furnival's inn, where Charles Dickens lived; Thavies inn, which was one of the earliest of all the legal settlements in London; Barnard's inn, where Lord Chief Justice Holt was among the "principals"—all these historic places have "in the change and chance of time" disappeared from view. Staple inn remains in its ancient state by the good will of the insurance company that purchased it a number of years ago.—London Law Journal.

Good Reason.

In his book about his distinguished father the son of Louis Agassiz tells a story that relates to the life of the great scientist in America. A few years before his death he came into his house in Cambridge delighted with an occurrence he had just seen in Boston. A carriage pushing through the crowd had knocked down a woman. Her escort proceeded to pummel the driver. "But why," asked the listener, "didn't the owner come to his driver's assistance?" "Oh," exclaimed Agassiz, "I was holding him."

Wasted Apology.

"One day," says a London journalist, "the late Walter Emanuel called on me and chatted delightfully. After half an hour the humorist said he must go and apologized for having wasted so much valuable time.

"'Don't mention it,' I rushed to reply. 'It has been a pleasure.'

"'Oh, it's not your valuable time I'm thinking of!' said Mr. Emanuel as he picked up his hat. 'It's mine!'"—Exchange.

Caffeine.

Caffeine, the active principle of coffee, was discovered by Runge in 1820. In a pure state it takes the form of long silky needles. In ordinary coffee it is present to the extent of about 1 per cent, but Java coffee contains 4.4 and Martinique has as much as 6.4.

Paraguay Lace.

Lace making was taught the natives of Paraguay by missionaries two centuries ago. Today in all towns of 8,000 inhabitants many of the men and nearly all the women and children make lace collarets, handkerchiefs and ladies' ties.

Accomplished.

Blobbs—I never knew such a liar as Longbow. Slobbs—Yes. That fellow could actually eat an onion and lie out of it.—Philadelphia Record.

Remembering Faces.

Hotel clerks have a way of recognizing guests as soon as they sign a register. The most successful hotel keepers have to have this power of remembering the faces of their guests and all about them or they would soon lose their custom by the mistakes they would make.

Bank cashiers carry in their memories the faces and signature of most of the customers of the bank.

Detectives, too, get into the habit of remembering the faces of every one with whom they have to deal, whether criminals or not.

"I don't think I have ever forgotten a customer," a clerk in one of the big safe deposits recently said. "There are hundreds of safe deposit boxes rented in our vaults, and I can generally remember, without referring to our books, the name, number and password of each customer."—Exchange.

LIFE OF A PEARL.

A Good Jewel Never Gets Sick Nor Dull, Says an Expert.

In his book, "The Magic of Jewels and Charms," George F. Kunz, the jewel expert, explodes the sick pearl fallacy. He says:

"For years a statement has been going through the press that pearls are liable to become diseased and die and that the famous necklace of pearls presented by President Thiers of France to his wife and bequeathed by Mme. Thiers to the French government had lost their luster and died, perhaps owing to the death of the owner. For there is an old belief that pearls, as well as opals and turquoises, lose some of their luster when the owner or wearer becomes ill and change to a dull and lifeless hue when the owner dies.

"An examination of the necklace by the writer showed that the pearls were in good condition, and to confirm his statement to this effect he had the director of the Louvre museum write him a letter. In this official communication the director not only states that the pearls had not sickened and died, but that they were in as 'healthy' a condition as they had ever been.

"The invariable experience of the writer has been that whenever pearls have been said to have suffered in this way the true explanation has been that they were old and poor at the time of their purchase and that this romance was started on its travels as an excuse to cover up the defect of such pearls and to arouse the belief that they had been remarkably beautiful and valuable when they were originally acquired."

The Cart Before the Horse.

Mr. Harbord had a jewel of a servant called Johanna. One day he found his bedroom a foot deep in old and muddy tea leaves. Johanna explained, "The missus said I made such a dust when I swept the floor and that I must put tea leaves all over the carpet, so I emptied the old barrel standing by the kitchen door, and I put them on the floor like missus said, master, after I had swept the carpet."—London Telegraph.

African Fashion Notes.

The prettiest dress of the Mpongwe woman is a cloth drawn up under the arms, a scarf on the shoulders and a handkerchief folded over the coiled hair in a high stiff fold set well up on the head, rather like a child's idea of a crown. There is a great fancy for purples and lavenders set off with shades of rose and red and a sudden keen note of gilt. With black there will be a touch of most delicious bright green. A cloth and a scarf worn by a woman of beautiful gesture—and a Gabonnaise is always that—have a certain mutable charm; the movements of the body, the wind that blows from the sea—these renew and display the folds of the garment so that the eye is interested.—Atlantic.
